MADNESS!!

Marlay madness definitely asserted itself this year. And yet it's been nine years since we last had that particular peculiar ingredient in our Marlay happening — anchoring in the Straits. So maybe we were overdue for the fickle hand of McLennan's ghost to cast its unpredictable influence over our mortal striving.

It speaks well for the fortitude of yachties that only 5% of the race entrants quit the trying conditions and withdrew. (That statistic includes some that did finish but did not hand in a declaration).

Congratulations to all finishers, most of whom are obviously enjoying the race more and more in retrospect, i.e. after a good sleep. The race was sailed in very good spirit. No protests, but many complaints about ooching.

It seems Divisions 1, 2 and 3 experienced two completely different wind conditions in Lake Wellington, depending on which end of the start line was chosen. Apparently the south side of the lake had a very light, true easterly, while the north side enjoyed a pleasant breeze from the north-east. Later the north-easter established right across the lake. The outcome was that some Division 4, 5 and 6 yachts had the pleasure of overtaking many of the faster and bigger yachts before the race started again in the Straits.

L.W.Y.C. organising officials are particularly pleased with the conscientious entering of logs by almost every competitor. This year the information on the logs was especially helpful in clarifying the official assessment of finishing order in some of the blanket finishes.

We look forward to hosting the trophy winners at our annual presentation dinner-dance and hope to see everyone for another fun weekend next year. Total entries were 559, with representatives from all mainland states.

RADIO
